WELCOME TO ART IN THE ORCHARD

Park Hill Orchard - Easthampton, MA

August 12th - November 26th, 2017

AiO'17 showcases 30 new sculptures and installations. Inside this program you'll find a trail map and additional information. We recommend you START your tour at the top of the parking lot.

Admission is FREE. Everyone is welcome. Voluntary donations support the sculptors and programming costs. The suggested donation is $5/person or $20/group.

Thank you for your support!

BATHROOMS are located to the left of the yellow Farm Stand.

REFRESHMENTS are available at The Farm Stand.

APPLE-PICKING - head up to The Farm Stand for a PYO bag.

BIG RED FRAME is a well-known landmark.

Share your pictures with this tag: #bigredframe

DOGS - well behaved and leashed dogs may walk the art trail but are not allowed in the orchard's Pick Your Own areas.

SHOES - wear clothing and shoes appropriate for walking around farm fields and trails.

BE RESPECTFUL - sculptures are placed under protection of the public-that's all of us! Please respect them and the artists who worked hard to create them for our enjoyment.

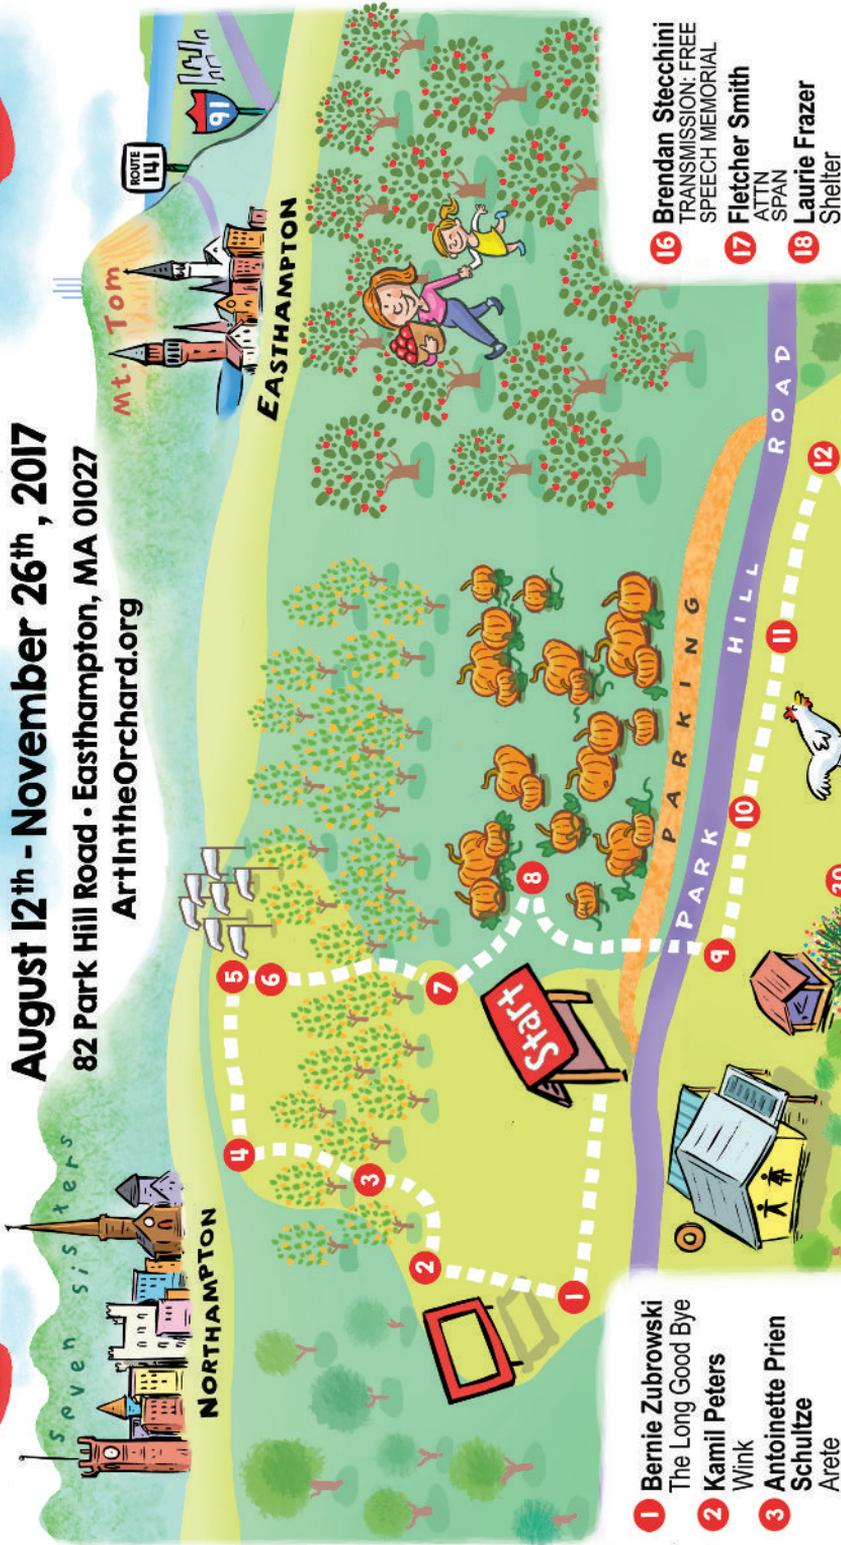

ENJOY your visit and come back with family, friends and coworkers throughout the changing seasons!

DEVELOPMENT & CONSTRUCTION, INC.

AIO'17 FEATURED WORKS

1 The Long Good Bye

Bernie Zubrowski

$2,500 • zubrowskib-sculpture.com

Plastic Molding with Metal Poles

One day while driving I saw one of those pink flamingos, and for some reason this shape seems to have connected with my previous experience exploring wave motion; explorations of aesthetically interesting phenomena with the development of scientific concepts.

2 Wink

Kamil Peters

$12,000 • kamilpeters.com

Recycled Metals

The last project I created with my mentor was a 6 foot praying mantis; he taught me everything I know about metal sculpture. This sculpture, Wink was built in memory of my mentor Charles Winkler.

3 Arete

Antoinette Prien Schultze

$12,000 • antoinettepschultze.com

Marble, Granite, Glass

Arete is the personification of courage. This is a quiet but heroic sculpture expressing the personal power one derives from the knowledge of self and the courage to be.

4

Easthampton's Big Beautiful Wall

Piper Foreso

$1,500 Per Panel; $4,000 Complete • piperglassandsteel.com

Fluorescent Acrylic in Steel Base

This Wall represents American ideals of access, personal freedom, and acceptance. Etched phrases remind us of the inspirational promise of our country and our power to effect change. The light of the figures and words illuminate a way forward.

5 Wind Field

Bruce Hooke

$2,900 • bghooke.com

Nylon Fabric, Steel, Aluminum

Gusts and eddies race and swirl invisibly all around us, hidden to our eyes, often just at the edge of our awareness. To see the wind blow is to see the world with new eyes.

6 Chinese Firecrackers

Fielding Brown

$5,000 • fieldingbrown.com

Hardwood & Stainless Steel

Designed for purposeful, observer activation. Chinese Firecrackers simulates a traditional string of Chinese firecrackers that twist and turn in variable winds.

7 Unicorn

Lindsey Molyneux

$15,000 • lindseymolyneux.com

Driftwood & Steel

In many ways Lindsey's childhood was defined by the company of all the wonderful equine spirits that came into her life. Creating horses in different media was a way to express her pure love for the horse. She says, "I wanted to make a Unicorn because my daughter loves them. Everyone loves them."

8 SUPERWEED

Wade Clement

$8,000 • wadeclementartwork.smugmug.com

Found Object Steel Pipe, Ribbed Steel Elements, Glass Globes, LED Lights

The piece is an assemblage of parts that depict a post human super weed, likely the last botanical type to exist. It was originally developed in the 21st century by Doctor Monty Santo in the Playing God Department at the University of Greed.

9 CELEBRATION

Eric Lintala
$3,200

Fabricated Fiberglass

This sculpture was created from a photograph that captured the overlapping shadow of 3 women dancing at my wedding celebration.

10 Embrace

William Duffy
Not For Sale • dancenorthampton.com

Goshen Stone

With a serpentine design etched (chiseled and drilled) completely through the thickness of the stone so as to bear a resemblance to a “Puzzle”, rendering an “Embrace”... One never forgets their first ‘Embrace’.

11 Geode Time Capsule

Bob Turan
$4,950 • bobturan.com

Concrete, Granite, Found Objects and Welded Steel

Geode Time Capsule depicts what future generations might find if they cut open a geode grown in today’s industrial world.

12 Wild Wood

Harold Grinspoon
Not For Sale • rotatingwoodsculptures.org

One single branch of a Live Oak tree from Florida, quartered, sanded, epoxied, and varnished

Grinspoon seeks to give new meaning to objects that have aged out of their natural purpose. Hoping to invoke in viewers both the nostalgia for the familiar and an appreciation for the new form of beauty. In this series he explores humanity’s relationship to the eternal and transformative nature of trees.

13 Through The Looking Glass

Eileen Jager

$7,000 • eileenjager.com

Glass Mosaic/Mirror & Paint on Wood

What we all have in common is an extraordinary capacity to hold many different perspectives and frames of reference; divergent realities at the same time.

14 Ensō Reclaimed

Beth Crawford & Robert Dickerman

Not For Sale

Reclaimed Wood & Iron

An Ensō circle is a Zen Buddhism symbol often used in Japanese calligraphy to mean endlessness, harmony, and the cyclical nature of existence. It is often imperfect, symbolizing accepting the imperfect as perfect.

15 Metro

Philip Marshall

$12,000 • philmarshallstudio.com

Steel & Pigment

An exploration of the loss of individuality of people in the seething mass of humanity of a great metropolis. Individuals, although often appearing visually similar, remain isolated as they purposefully make their separate, but intersecting, ways to work.

16 TRANSMISSION: FREE SPEECH MEMORIAL

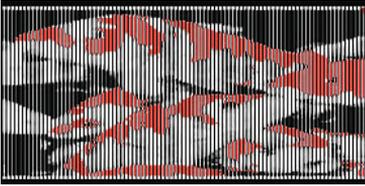

Brendan Stecchini

$1,800 Each Pillar

Clear Coated Structural & Sheet Steel

“Restrictions of free thought and free speech is the most dangerous of all subversions. It is the one un-American act that could most easily defeat us.” - William O. Douglas, Supreme Court Justice (1939 - 1975)

17 ATTN SPAN Fletcher Smith

Price On Request • fletchersmithstudio.com
Poly-chromed (Acrylic Paint) Plywood & Dimensional Lumber

Human attention span has supposedly dropped from 12 seconds in 2002 to only eight seconds in 2013, which is a second shorter than a goldfish. Researchers correlate the inability to focus on a single task to the adoption of technology, the large volume of media consumption, our social media use and multi-screen behavior.

18 Shelter Laurie Frazer

Price On Request • laurie@cobaltdesign.net

Mosaic

“A small forest provides shelter.” On a walk through the woods I was inspired by the hollows in many of the trees and the likelihood of them being homes for animals. Shelter has been on my mind lately since all of us want a home or just simply need shelter.

19 Refugees Michael Melle

$1,500 Each • michaelmelle.com

Wood, Burlap, Wire, Clothing

All around the world people, just like you, are fleeing from their homes in fear for their lives; forced to grab a few things and run out the door. Then, as refugees, they walk away from the life they have known into the dangers of a life on the run.

20 Jack Was Optimistic Chris Plaisted

$12,000 • cfplaistedsculpture.com

Steel, Copper, Aluminum

This started as a dark piece gnarly roots, black materials, but changed to a more optimistic/whimsical piece as I was working on it, i.e., you could climb or see above all this to a brighter place.

21 Adanac

Gary Orlinsky

$3,400 • gary-orlinsky.squarespace.com

Saplings, PVC Conduit, Burlap and Twine

Adanac, a variety of apple, feels particularly at home in this orchard. These simple, elegant structures juxtapose the pure geometry of the sphere with the gestural movement of the saplings. The negative space of these skeletal forms becomes a dominant motif.

22

Sheena: At the fight over the last fish

Mark Fenwick

$4,000 • thefenwick.info

Polychrome Wood

This groundwork piece shows my studies embracing 'The Narrative' into a sculptural framework, much in the style of the graphic novel. Implicating a sense of the ongoing, of motion in time, through both form and title, hopefully illustrating showing my goal of 'motion through stasis'.

23

The Eagle has Landed

Trisha Moody-Bourbeau

$6,500 • tmbmetalartworks.com

Metal-Repurposed Tools & Metal Scrap

Where I live, I am blessed to hear Bald Eagles almost daily and love the symbol of freedom and grace they represent, which I feel is a perfect reminder in our current times.

24

Bumble Bee/Barn

Four Rivers Charter Public School

Posts & Boxes Locust, Cedar, and Pine, Nesting Tubes Local Bamboo, Sumac, and Japanese Knotweed, Low VOC Paint

$1,200 • fourriverscharter.org

In response to the decline of the bumble bee, these small, detailed boxes filled with bee housing and decorated with natural materials are meant to form a connection between the bees, the orchard, and the people. Without bees, the orchard's apple blossoms would not be pollinated and there would be no delicious apples.

25

Our Tribe Michael Poole

$400 Per Piece • bluecollarartists.com

Steel, Wire, Copper, Glass, Mixed Media

This installation is a representation of community and a deep appreciation for the individuals who make our communities colorful and diverse. I am introducing the members of our tribe to you; some you may recognize immediately, others will be new acquaintances, you may even see yourself.

26

SLIM Michael Tillyer

$2,000 • anchorhouseartists.org

Carved & Painted Wood, Metal

Tim and Jim are joined with Slim. One plucks, one toots, one bonks and booms. One hoots, one squints, one sways and swoons, their rhythm ties the nights and noons.

27

A2 Chris Woodman

$10,000 • woodmanworks.com

Steel, Found Metal Objects, Hardware, Lots of Rivets

As a shout-out to my mom, an embodiment of the strength, fortitude and indomitable female spirit. At a time in history when the rights and powers of women are still being held back by those fearing progress, A2 trudges forth unencumbered by fear or foolishness.

28

Obsolete Oil Can Fountain Peter Dellert

$5,750 • peterdellert.com

Grape Vines, Wood on Wood Armature with Integral Pump

If people can begin to see where we came from and how we arrived where we are in an oil based culture, then it is perhaps easier to see the solutions at hand.

29 Turning Pointe Laura Reinhard

$15,000 • laurareinhard.com

Copper with Acid Patina & Lacquer Finish

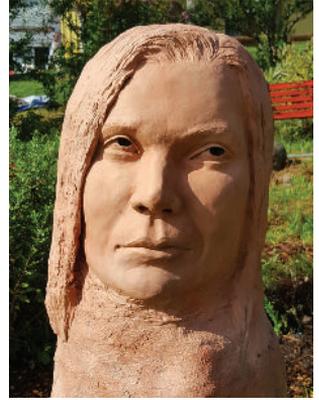

Unlike a plant pod that hangs, this form rises from the earth like a dancer en pointe. Turning Pointe tries to capture the energy and ecstasy of released fertility. The pod appears empty not because it is without seed, but instead to represent the invisible yet fecund seeds of creativity within us.

30 Reunion Beckie Kravetz

$3,000 Each • bksculpturestudio.com

Fired Ceramic

In Reunion, the detailed faces emphasize the individual humanity of the figures, while their monolithic, earthen bodies honor the clay and our connection to soil and planet, and echo an ancient tradition of standing stones that has appeared in cultures worldwide.
